ABOUT

Reading Rainbow meets Parts Unknown in For Art's Sake, an art and travel show created to inspire the next generation of artists.

Right now, children and teens across the country are seeing art education cut from their schooling, losing an invaluable creative outlet that builds confidence and grows their imaginations.

For Art's Sake creates a global classroom where fine art and culture combine in an inspiring 30 minute education-travel series.

Each episode of For Art's Sake will include the following:

Travel: Alyce travels to a city that is home to an innovative and inspiring artist. The artist will guide Alyce and our audience through the city, exploring the important role art plays in the local history and culture.

Artistry: Alyce will lift the curtain to give our audience an exclusive peek inside the artist's studio. Alyce will curiously deconstruct the famous processes and techniques that make these artists so sought after while discovering what inspires them, how they remain creative in today's chaotic world, and the teachers who make them the artists they are today.

Education: In an exciting and empowering tutorial, Alyce will be an apprentice to the episode's artist who will demonstrate the previously studied techniques and processes to create a one-of-a-kind art piece. The finished pieces could even be auctioned off to benefit a local charity of the artist's choosing.

TRAVEL

From Van Gogh to Kehinde Wiley, location and setting have always been important elements in the artist's process. Each featured artist will guide Alyce through everything they find special about their town and reveal how it informs their perspective and inspires their creativity.

ARTISTRY

Alyce and the episode's artist dive into the world of art! They passionately discuss style, favorite artists, tools of the trade, artistic choices, and technique.

EDUCATION

Alyce apprentices in our featured artist's studio and is guided through a project designed exclusively for us. By breaking down complex work into basic steps and highlighting a new technique, we will excite and empower the next generation of artists.

ALYCE MARIE

Alyce Marie is the founder and owner of Alyce's Art Studio. For the past 10 years, she has been an educator, professional artist, and innovator. Growing a small business from one student to hundreds has inspired her to find ways of connecting progressive and influential artists with younger generations of creatives.

She graduated from San Jose State University where she obtained her BA in Pictorial Arts and developed an understanding and love of Art Education.

EPISODE 1

Allison Torneros, known in the art world as “Hueman,” is a multidisciplinary artist based in Oakland, CA. Her distinctly gauzy art style is what she likes to call “etherealism”- a blend of ethereal realism.

EPISODE 2

Clio Newton is a groundbreaking artist from Zürich, SUI. Her approach to her compositions comes from the standpoint of the “female gaze,” reflecting her interest in contemporary models of femininity and the representation of women in art and culture. Newton’s renderings in compressed charcoal feature larger-than-life figures who fill the picture plane and beyond. Her works are remarkably realistic compositions informed by bold choices and her interest in the uncanny.
